CLEARWATER POLICE DEPARTMENT LAUNCHES FACEBOOK PAGE

Clearwater, Fla. – The Clearwater Police Department launched its new page this morning. The page will include information about crime trends, crime prevention tips, arrests, upcoming events and will also answer law enforcement-related questions from citizens.

“Policing is a partnership between police and the community and communication is crucial in any relationship. More people are communicating through social media and we want to be a part of the conversation,” said Clearwater Chief of Police, Anthony Holloway. “Facebook is a great way to connect with our citizens.”

The Clearwater Police Department Facebook page is part of the department’s ongoing effort to build relationships with our citizens and increase two-way communication. It enables the department to share information and receive feedback.

Citizens should not use Facebook to generate a police response. For emergencies, always call 911. For non-emergencies, call 562-4242. We encourage citizens to send tip information through the tip line (562-4080), email (police@myclearwater.com) or anonymously through tip411.
